Last year the receipts were about $116.000,000, and the cost of collection about $4,000,000.

GEN. DRUM'S REPORT.—The annual report of Adj.-Gen. Drum shows that the army lost 248 soldiers by death during the past year, 2,361 by desertion, and 6,564 were discharged. There were 1,964 re-enlistments, and 3,805 new recruits were received. The large number of discharges is attributed to the increasing prosperity of the country.

CIVIL-SERVICE REFORM.—Not long after he entered upon the duties of his office, Secretary Windom prepared a plan for relieving the heads of Departments from the importunities of persons seeking for places, which he submitted to President Garfield, who regarded it with much favor. The plan contemplates the apportioning of the subordinate places in the civil service among the States, according to population; the appointment of a commission in each State to examine applicants, and all vacancies to be filed from the State to which the retiring or deceased incumbent was accredited.

A NEW BANKRUPT ACT.—The Senate is sub-Committee of Judiciary, consisting of fingalls, Garland and McMillan, appointed to devise a new bankrupt act for presentation to Congress at its regular meeting in December, has held but a few meetings on the subject, although the members have been in constant communication, comparing the results of their labors, and trying to reach harmonious results. It was the original intention to have visited the mercantile centres and consulted with the leading business men of the country, but the plans of the committee were upset by the Garfield tragedy and the subsequent called session of the Senate. It is now learned that a report has been agreed to in part, some of the most prominent features being ready, but the report as a whole being still too much in the shell for publication. It will be submitted to the Senate before the beginning of next year.

A CRECULAR AGAINST INFLUENCE—
Secretary Hunt issued a circular to-day, and Marine Corps to the regulations of the many forbidding applications for duty, through persons of influence. "All such applications must be made directly to the Secretary of the Navy, who is supposed to be the best judge of what duty an officer is said to be an irregularity." A DESPERATE CRANK.

Cinims to be President, and At-tempts to Shoot the Doorkeepers— Arrested After Much Resistance.

There was a dangerous crank at the White House to-day, who, but for the prompt action of the doorkeepers, would have caused a tragedy in the main corridor of that building. He was a plainly dressed individual, with features somewhat resem-bling those of ex-Senator Thurman, and at first gave no indications of being "off" in his mind. He came about 10 o'clock, and was met at the entrance by Mr. Allen, who demned by Mr. Davitt. Every man in Kilmainham is willing to remain there any number of months or years that may be necessary." The farm premises and several stacks of wheat and hay, belonging to Dr. Thompson, which had recently been harvested by emergency men, have been maliciously destroyed by fire at Ballyduff, Waterford County. A large crowd of people looked on, but made no attempt to save the property. Arrests of the incendiaries are imminent. A crowd of 700 persons attacked the police while they were serving simmonses at Belmullet, County Mayo. The police fired upon the people, several of whom were wounded. Three more arrests have been made at Broadford, County Clare, under the coercion act. E. Dwyer Gray has retired from the Dublin town council. A rumor is current in Dublin that Earl Spencer, lord president of the council, will replace Earl Cowper as lord lieutenant of Ireland, and that Lord Derby will replace Earl Spencer in the cabinet. A telegram from Armagh says cells have been prepared in the jail there for Mr. Parnell and forty others. Among the few arrests to-day is that of an Englishman, Capt. Dugmore, late of the Sixty-fourth Regiment, a former home-rule candidate for Portarlington.

There are already 7,500 cases before the Land Court, of which 3,600 came in on Saturday. There seems to be a reaction setting in. Although there are 400 leaguers in prison, occasional events show that the spirit underlying the League movement still survives. It is probable that Mr. Parnell will be sentenced to fourteen days privation of visits for having written the letter published in the Freeman's Journal. The officers of the prison are in a state of apprehension that a sworn inquiry will be held touching the letter. Rev. Anthony McHale, Catholic curate at Lahardare, in the diocese of Killala, has been arrested for holding a Land League meeting in his chapel.

acknowledged chief of the Home Rule party. Previously, the League used to provide for the necessities of the prisoners, who, beyond being deprived of their liberty, were not harshly treated; but now, those incarcerated have decided to take prison fare rather than burden the League with their support. What may be the result of the numerous arrests made and being made in Ireland by the British government, it is difficult to say. Of course, from an English standpoint, it is but proper to uphold the law of the land; but, then, there are those who are of the opinion that Ireland should have the management of her local affairs. Be this as it may, the Home affairs. Be this as it may, the Home Rulers and the government are now face to face with daggers drawn, so to speak; but from the fact that Kilmainham jail is begining to play a more prominent part than ever in the drams, and has already de-prived the leading Irish spirits of their free-dom, the chances are that the cause of Ireland will merely languish on as it has Stratham Postmaster After All. The dead-lock in the Senate was caused by the attempt to force Clifford Stratham on the people of Lynchburg as postmaster. The nomination was withdrawn and that broke the dead-lock. To-day the President nomi-mated Stratham, in place of Wilson, suspended.

THE FOLLOWING postmasters were commissioned to-day: Harriet C. Blankenbeck, Ryc Valley, Smyth County, Va.; William H. Dudley, Lynch, Kent County, Md.; James D. Sprigg, Salt Lick, Braxton County, W. Va., and Creed T. Stigleman, East View, Floyd County, Va.

It was then clear that the man was a genuine crank. He had gotten into the corridor during the conversation, and there being no policeman on hand at the time, Mr. Allen concluded it was best to keep him there until Sergeant Dinsmore, who had just stepped out, returned. He, therefore, humored his whims, saying that the President was not in just then, but as soon as his private secretary came in he would introduce him. This had a good effect for a time and the stranger waited patiently for almost an hour, during which time he informed Mr. Allen that his name was John Woling, and that he lived at Colesville, Snyder County, Pa. He refused to state his occupation. Although he had been in the city since the 20th instant, he said he had not seen the President (Dr. Noetling) yet. In explanation of his business he showed a letter of which the following is a copy: uine crank. He had gotten into the corri-

He also stated that his business with the President, as he persisted in calling Dr. Noetling, was very important and concerned his title to the office. What he wanted particularly was a card from the President to the Secretary of State in order to get an accurate account of the votes cast at the last Presidential election, which he contended would show conclusively the election of Noetling over Gen. TO ARGUE THE STAR-ROUTE CASES!

And Yet the Government is Never Rendy—The Argument Again Post-poned at the Instance of the Gov-ernment—Col. Cook Falls to Come to Time.

Messrs. Jeff Chandler, Jere Wilson, Robert G. Ingersoll and Enoch Totten, of the counsel for the defendants, were in their places, and the Government was represented by District Attorney Corkhill, none of the force of special attorneys selected by the Attorney-General being in attendance to face the music. The bar was strongly represented, evidently expecting to be treated to bursts of legal eloquence and sharp repartee, but were disappointed, as the matter occupied the attention of the court only for about fifteen minutes.

The proceedings were as follows:

Mr. Totten—May it please Your Honor, on Saturday we served formal notice upon Mr. Cook, who appears for the District Attorney in what is known as the Star-route cases, that we could come into court this morning and ask to have a day fixed for the hearing of the motion to quash this information and the other motions made at the same time.
